WATCH: God Loves You no Matter What

READ: James 5:16; Ephesians 4:32

DO: Forgiveness. Are you struggling with it? It's easier said than done. God knows forgiving someone (including yourself) is a hard thing to do yet, He still requires us to forgive. If you are struggling with coming to the point of forgiveness, there is hope. Whatever God is calling us to do (including forgiveness), He will help us to follow-through. If you are struggling with forgiveness, start asking God to help you come to a point where you can genuinely forgive the offender. Ask an accountability partner to pray for you with whatever area of forgiveness you are struggling with. If it's extremely personal, you don't need to be too specific when sharing with your partner, God knows the whole picture and will still honor your and their prayers.
