DO: Do you have any past sins hanging over your head, causing you to wonder if God could really forgive you for that sin. The answer is, yes He has forgiven you, and here is why.... Does anyone know the distance that separates East from West? Mathematicians would say the distance between East and West is “infinity.” And what does the Bible say God has done with our sins? He has removed them an infinite distance from us. They are gone. No more do they exist. No longer do they define who we are. Spend sometime reflecting on what God’s Word says about our sins, and allow yourself to be liberated from the chains of guilt that God has removed from you. How amazing is God to do that for us!
